

Danish design offers Australian seniors a toilet solution like no other

Pressalit the Danish manufacturer of aged care bathroom solutions, is delighted to showcase their "TMA3" combo, comprising of an increased height free-standing toilet, complete with integral folding support arms and ergonomic toilet seat.

Options for the TMA3 include the ability to have different coloured toilet seats with or without lids, plus support arms complete a nurse call feature if required.

Additional highlights include:

- ✓ The TMA3 can be installed into a corner at a 45-degree angle, giving space for carers
- ✓ Support arms raise and lower independently of one another (Load rated to 150kg)
- ✓ Dual toilet roll holder allows paper placement either on the left or right according to need
- ✓ Hygienic profile of the Rimfree S trap toilet promotes superior hygiene (Load rated to 400kg)
- ✓ Elevated toilet seat platform of 480mm from FFL improves accessibility
- ✓ Raised flush button helps when users have limited hand / finger dexterity

MADE IN DENMARK

Quality & design

Scandinavian products are renowned for their impeccable quality and Pressalit is no exception. For over 70 years the Danish manufacturer has been perfecting its striking range of products, so it's no surprise their designs have won many international awards.

Superior functionality

The ritual of using the toilet can be a challenge for an increasing number of people, specifically when we think about lowering and raising from a standing or seated position. With slip resistant ergonomic hand supports that are tactile to the touch, twinned with a flat and broad area to apply pressure, the TMA3 is a very practical solution. The overall aim of the Pressalit product is to assist people with their independence and dignity, whilst acknowledging that the involvement of a carer can also be required.

Aussie heritage

Having embraced Pressalit's care products for over 30 years here in Australia, many of their trademark supportive designs of grabrails, shower seats and toilet seats are used in leading aged care facilities, so it's more than likely you've already seen the brand in action at some point or another. Suitable for both commercial and domestic use, the Pressalit TMA3 comes with a 3-year warranty and will be available for supply in the coming months.
